1. Executive Summary

The status of the Pascal committee is in "Maintenance". This corresponds with the Pascal and Extended Pascal standards projects, which are in maintenance mode.

No meetings were held in 2006 and to date in 2007. All committee business is conducted via e-mail, telephone calls, and post. The last committee meeting was in April of 1995.

Membership remains stable, as it has been for years, at four principal members. There is a good possibility that a past member may be rejoining the committee. The positions of Vice Chairman, International Representative, and Vocabulary Representative remain vacant.

No new work is anticipated at this time.

There were no action item that the committee had to take this last year.
