

W1.1: Image Quality of Printers
Organization of Attribute Teams

The overall work of the committee has been subdivided into several tasks that will be pursued in parallel. Each task is connected with one of the list of selected attributes that govern image quality. A team headed by a team leader will organize the efforts of interested contributors to formulate the standards content. Teams are open to anyone with interest and background in the defined area of investigation. It is not necessary to work on a team in order to have input into the working drafts produced by the team. All work will be posted for review by all participants of W1.1. The teams not yet constituted will be formed as soon as other work is completed or additional interested individuals are identified.
